Traveling Recording Picture Frame/Alarm Clock

Your RadioShack Traveling Recording Picture Frame/Alarm Clock combines a clock with a recorder that uses the latest IC (memory) recording technology to record sounds without tape or moving parts. You can easily see the time, and you can record an important message as well. At a time you set, you can have the recorder play the message automatically. The IC lets you record a new message as many times as you like.

The clock includes these features.

Large Display — lets you easily see the time and alarm settings.

Built-In Photo Frame — holds a favorite picture.

10-Second Solid-State Recorder — records and plays a single message as an alarm or memo.

Clock Alarm — alerts you with a repeating series of four beeps, or announces the prerecorded message.

Compact Size — makes it handy to pack or carry wherever you go.

PREPARATION

Removing the Battery Insulation Strips

Your picture frame/alarm clock comes equipped with four type 357A button-cell batteries already installed. However, before you can use the clock, you must remove the plastic insulation sheet from inside the battery compartment.

2. Slide off the battery compartment cover.
3. Grasp the white plastic sheet and gently pull it off.
4. Make sure the batteries are in position, then replace the battery cover and secure it with the screw.

Framing a Picture

Select a picture or photograph which is thin enough to fit into the frame's slot. Trim the picture to  $2\frac{5}{8} \times 2\frac{3}{8}$  inches (66 x 60 mm), then insert the picture from the top of the frame and push it down until it touches the bottom of the frame.

To replace the picture, slide it up until it clears the upper edge frame opening.

To enjoy your Traveling Recording Picture Frame/Alarm Clock for a long time:

- Keep the clock dry. If it gets wet, wipe it dry immediately.
- Use and store the clock only in normal temperature environments.
- Handle the clock gently and carefully. Don't drop it.
- Keep the clock away from dust and dirt.
- Wipe the clock with a damp cloth occasionally to keep it looking new.

REPLACING THE BATTERIES

Your alarm clock uses four type 357A button-cell batteries (supplied) for power. When the recorded sound weakens, replace the batteries. (For the best results, use button-cell batteries available from your local RadioShack store.) The recorder keeps the last message recorded in memory while you change batteries.

Follow these steps to replace the batteries.

1. Use a Phillips screwdriver to remove the screw from the battery compartment cover, then slide the cover off.
2. Use the tip of a pencil or other non-metallic sharp object to remove the batteries. Then insert four fresh batteries in the compartment with their positive (+) side up.

3. Replace the cover and secure it with the screw.

Warnings:

- Dispose of old batteries promptly and properly. Do not burn or bury them.
- Keep button-cell batteries away from children. Swallowing a button-cell battery can be fatal.

Cautions:

- Use only fresh batteries of the required size and type.
- Do not mix old and new batteries, or different types of batteries.
- Always remove old or weak batteries. Batteries can leak chemicals that can destroy electronic parts.
